

In this beautifully illustrated story by Martha Sears West, we encounter her endearing heroine once again. Hetty is fully grown and married to her beloved Morgan. But now she is threatened with the loss of all she holds dear. The best thing about this story is Hetty's undimmed spirit and her gentle, loving nature, reminding us that love never fails. Her character shines throughout the pages, illuminating even the dark shadows. West's well-paced story moves along with lots of twists and turns, and the young reader won't be disappointed with the poignant yet satisfying ending.

~Rebecca Dye Heron

Author of U-Turn in the Fast Lane; home-schooling mother

---